Steel Companies Bow to JFK's Wrath

SIX HURT AS DRIVER 'BLACKS OUT' — Six Salem area residents were injured in a three-car crash on S. Lincoln Ave. near Franklin St. this morning after one of the drivers "blacked out," causing her car to cross the center line. Above, Patrolman James Irey inspects one of the cars in which a woman passenger was hurt when her head struck the windshield.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's price-crushing victory over the mighty steel industry left him clothed today with vast new influence to shape the American economy.

The steel giants bowed one by one Friday to a massive, three-day government drive forcing them to cancel $6-a-ton price increases announced late Tuesday.

The surrender under furious Kennedy attack was a public spectacle unlikely to be soon forgotten by industry or labor leaders considering a try at breaching the administration rules for wage price stability.

The President, after denouncing the price boosts touched off by the U.S. Steel Corp., unleashed the full brunt of government retaliatory power to force the rollback.

Cancel Price Increases

The President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, though also elated at the administration victory, charted full speed ahead on the New York federal grand jury investigation he had ordered into the price increases. He said the price rollback would not have any effect on continuing the probe.

Similarly, two congressional committees said they would carry out plans for investigations. Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said however, the House Judiciary Committee would engage in more of a study than an investigation, with the purpose of determining whether the antitrust laws need strengthening.

A Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., also will go ahead.

The surrender parade was signalled by Inland Steel's decision not to raise prices. Then Bethlehem Steel, No. 2 in the industry and heavily involved in government ship-building, cancelled its previously announced increase.

From then on it was a rout, with U.S. Steel tossing in the towel. Big Steel said it couldn't stand alone and wanted to "remove a serious obstacle to proper relations between government and business."

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg—one of the chief Kennedy lieutenants in bringing the steel industry around — went secretly to New York to talk to Blough.

A high administration source said that no deal was made, however, to bring the steel companies around.

The arsenal of weapons the President wheeled into his all-out economic foray against the big business leaders was an awesome display of coldly determined political and economic power seldom employed by the government. Every major governmental department got into the act.

The President himself got on the phone to people of influence. Steel moguls were flooded with grand jury and congressional committee subpoenas. Steps were taken to channel government orders to steel firms holding the price line. These holdouts were encouraged.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said, for instance, that steel buying for defense contracts would be shifted to firms that did not raise prices.

It was clear when the fight ended Kennedy had only begun. This is what may have impressed the industry.

The view here is that the steel companies might have gotten away with hoisting prices gradually later on—some time after the newly negotiated steel labor contract had gone into effect July 1. But with Kennedy publicly describing the labor pact as non-inflationary, the sudden price increases left the President on the spot.

Kennedy had egged the United Steelworkers Union into a modest settlement with the implicit—though unstated—understanding the price side of the bargain would remain unchanged.

The President obviously felt that what was at stake was his future ability to maintain the wage-price line—something he had constantly emphasized as vital to the nation's world position and commitments.

Open House Is Planned May 13

Post Office Dedication Program Is Completed

Congressman Wayne L. Hays will make the principal address when Salem's new post office building at the corner of Columbia and Penn is dedicated Sunday, May 13, at 2:30 p.m.

Finishing touches on the new building are expected next week.

Postmaster Ray Reasbeck has named Assistant Postmaster Ray Reich general chairman for the event, with supervisors William Schaeffer and Henry Brobender in charge of seating arrangements and decorating.

The ceremony will be held at the rear of the new building with bleachers and chairs being provided for the public. An open house inspection will follow.

The dedication program is being sponsored by the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce, the Salem Manufacturers Association, the retail merchants and the Junior Chamber.

Congressman Hays will present the postmaster with a flag which has flown over the Capitol and the Post Office Department building in Washington, D. C.

William J. Rahter of Cincinnati, assistant to the regional director, will accept the new building for the Post Office Department, while J. Raymond Stiver, president of the Salem Chamber of Commerce, will give the welcome address.

Band Will Play

The American Legion Quaker City Band under the direction of Karl Meinhardt will provide a musical program from 2 to 2:30 p.m. immediately preceding the ceremonies.

Immediately following the ceremonies the flag will be raised at the front of the Post Office by a massed color guard representing Salem veterans organizations under Legion Commander John Herndon, Jr.

Mayor Dean Cranmer will cut the ribbon at the front door and

6 Injured In 3-Car Collision

Caused When Driver Of One 'Blacks Out'

Six Salem area residents, including two children, were hurt in a three-car accident on S. Lincoln Ave., just north of Franklin St., shortly before 9 a.m. today.

Injured were: Mrs. Martha L. Ryan, 35, of 803 Fair Ave., contusions of the left knee and forehead.

Carl Ryan, 10, her son, contusions of the right leg and face and a possible fracture of the nose.

Mrs. Helen Martinelli, 33, of 597 Walnut St., severe lacerations of the forehead and a possible fracture of the nose.

Joyce Martinelli, 9, her daughter, fractured nose and lacerations of the face.

Carl L. Kibler, 30, of RD 3, Salem, contusions of the back. George N. Yoder 32, of RD 3, Salem, injuries to the left elbow and thumb.

Mrs. Ryan, Mrs. Martinelli and the two children are all listed in fair condition. They were taken to Salem City Hospital. Joyce Martinelli was taken later to a doctor in Alliance by her father, Louis.

Kibler and Yoder were released after treatment at Salem Central Clinic.

Police said the accident occurred when Mrs. Ryan apparently "blacked out" while driving south on N. Lincoln Ave. Her station wagon went left of center, sideswiping Kibler's north-bound car before crashing almost head-on into the other north-bound auto driven by Yoder.

Kibler said he saw Mrs. Ryan slumped over the steering wheel before her station wagon glanced off his car. Yoder told police that Mrs. Ryan apparently regained consciousness after striking the first car because she raised up and threw her hands in front of her face just before colliding with his auto.

The two children and Mrs. Martinelli were all passengers in the station wagon. Police said Mrs. Martinelli was hurled against the windshield, her head knocking out the glass. Mrs. Ryan was pinned under the steering wheel.

She was cited for driving left of center.

French Rebel Leader Faces Death Penalty

PARIS (AP)—Lawyers for ex-Gen. Edmond Jouhaud said today they would appeal to President Charles de Gaulle to spare his life, even though Jouhaud himself refused to ask for mercy.

Condemned to death as a leader of the terrorist fight against Algerian independence, Jouhaud faces the guillotine or firing squad unless De Gaulle steps in.

Defense attorney Yves Perrussel said Jouhaud had informed his lawyers he did not wish to seek clemency from De Gaulle. But Perrussel said he and his colleagues felt an effort should be made on the Algerian leader's behalf.

The former French air force chief who turned anti-Gaullist to work in the European Secret Army Organization in his native Algeria, was sentenced Friday night by a special high military court as defiant shouts of "Algerie Francaise" rang out in the packed chamber.

Barring a presidential act, there is no appeal from the verdict. Defense attorney Yves Perrussel indicated in his closing statement

U.S. Offers New Berlin Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is reported to have put before its Western Allies four sweeping ideas for possible U.S.-Soviet negotiations on Berlin, including a proposal for creation of an international authority to operate West Berlin supply lines with participation by East Germany.

The three other proposals circulated to London, Bonn and Paris earlier this week in preparation for new Berlin talks with Moscow are:

1. The issuance of nonaggression declarations by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Communist Warsaw Pact together with guarantees against violation by either side of existing borders and boundary lines on the cold war frontiers in Europe.

The nonviolation pledge would have the effect of permitting both sides to preserve the security of existing demarcation lines, including the frontier between Germany and Poland. This would meet Soviet insistence on securing the Polish frontier, U.S. officials hope, while preserving the Western position that such boundaries can be finally determined only in a German peace treaty.

2. An agreement among the nuclear powers not to supply nuclear weapons to any country not now possessing them. This is evidently designed to meet a Soviet demand for Western guarantees against West Germany's becoming a nuclear power. It would not, however, rule out the possibility of providing nuclear weapons to NATO or of maintaining on the territory of NATO allies nuclear forces controlled by the United States.

3. The establishment of committees of East and West Germans to deal with practical problems arising between the two German states.

Washington informants said all four of the major proposals set forth in the working paper now before the Allies already have been taken up with Soviet officials in previous U.S.-Soviet discussions on Berlin. The Soviet response so far is described as one of lukewarm interest, but Secretary of State Dean Rusk reportedly feels that the proposals represent hopeful and practical lines.

Rusk plans to begin a new series of Berlin talks here Monday with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin. Some talks also may be held with officials in Moscow by U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson.

The Berlin situation is expected to be discussed by President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan when they confer here and at Kennedy's Glen Ora estate in Virginia the weekend of April 28-29.

The exact role which the East Germans would play in the operation of the supply line under the Western proposal is not clear and reportedly has not been spelled out.

Instead, Khrushchev urged the Western powers to show more trust in the Soviet Union and accept its proposals for an unpolluted test ban treaty. Otherwise, he declared, "the implementation of your declared decision to hold tests compels us to prepare and hold tests of our nuclear weapons."

"And in the future, your holding of nuclear weapon tests underground or in the atmosphere, in space or underwater, will force the Soviet Union to hold tests of its own nuclear weapons so that the defense (of the Soviet bloc) ... would be at an appropriate level," the statement said.

At the 17-nation disarmament conference in Geneva, Britain also spoke of what it called the Soviet nuclear weapons advantage gained from the Soviet tests last fall. The British said then they were willing to let the Soviet Union keep this advantage if it accepted a cheat-proof test ban treaty.

Just as Soviet delegates did at Geneva, Khrushchev rejected international inspection as a means for Western spying on Russia.

Nikita Rejects A-Test Appeal

Vows To Match Western Blasts

MOSCOW (AP)—The stage was set today for a nuclear arms race as Premier Khrushchev vowed to match Western nuclear tests blast for blast — underwater, even underground, in the atmosphere, even in space.

Khrushchev has rejected a last-chance appeal from President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to accept a controlled end to nuclear testing and head off American tests scheduled for later this month in the Pacific.

Kennedy and Macmillan had asked Khrushchev in a statement earlier this week to reconsider the Soviet refusal to accept any form of international controls within a test-ban treaty.

Khrushchev's answer, in a note distributed by the Soviet news agency Tass and broadcast by Moscow radio, declared that the Soviet Union could not accept the Western plan because Russia refused to permit "unhampered intelligence" over its territory.

Instead, Khrushchev urged the Western powers to show more trust in the Soviet Union and accept its proposals for an unpolluted test ban treaty. Otherwise, he declared, "the implementation of your declared decision to hold tests compels us to prepare and hold tests of our nuclear weapons."

"And in the future, your holding of nuclear weapon tests underground or in the atmosphere, in space or underwater, will force the Soviet Union to hold tests of its own nuclear weapons so that the defense (of the Soviet bloc) ... would be at an appropriate level," the statement said.

Taylor Camp Called 'Splinter Group'

Democrats Reaffirm Support of Gosney

Only eight persons attended a meeting of the East Liverpool Democratic "splinter" group that enacted a resolution Thursday night urging Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, the party's county chairman, to resign his post on the election board and endorsing his opponent for state central committeeman, a member of the party county executive committee declared today.

In a statement issued in Gosney's behalf, Albert E. Kittridge of East Liverpool, his party's candidate for sheriff on two occasions, declared:

"The small attendance at this meeting of insurgents is in itself an indication of how much weight should be placed on the action it took."

Kittridge referred to a meeting of the East Liverpool Democratic Boosters Club, which blasted the party chairman from several angles in a resolution it passed after hearing a talk by John Taylor of Salem, a former state senator and a candidate against Gosney for the state central committee post from the 18th Congressional District.

The group asserted it was "improper" for Gosney to be both a member of the Election Board and a paid member of the staff of Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman.

Gosney Well Supported

"The group that endorsed Taylor represents only a tiny fraction of one per cent of the Democratic party in Columbiana County," Kittridge declared. "Gosney has been endorsed by both the men's and women's Democratic clubs in East Liverpool, which held a testimonial dinner in his honor within the last month."

"He also has been endorsed by both the county central and executive committees, as well as the Democratic county officeholders."

Police Chief Ouster Is Upheld By Judge

LISBON—Common Pleas Court Judge Raymond Buzzard Friday upheld the dismissal of C. Richard Lotze, 33, former police chief of East Palestine.

Lotze was evicted from office June 1, 1961, by Mayor Robert Harding of East Palestine on nine counts of misconduct in office.

In handing down his decision, Judge Buzzard said, "The court finds that appellant Lotze has not been of good behavior and efficient service within the meaning of the statutes. The court finds from the evidence he has been guilty of incompetency; he has been guilty of neglect of duty and failure of good behavior; he has failed to obey the orders of the mayor and of the safety director; and he has been guilty of malfeasance. It is therefore ordered that the appellant Lotze be removed as chief of police of the city of East Palestine as of June 1, 1961, and he is ordered to pay the costs of the proceeding."

The four-day trial began March 27.

FINED $50 IN LISBON

LISBON — Robert Jay Gorby, 19, of Negley RD 1 was fined $50 and costs Friday by Mayor Dean Stockman after he was found guilty of failing to yield the right of way in a truck-car accident which caused an estimated $1,300 damages.

Gorby was cited after his car struck a truck on N. Market St., Thursday evening at the intersection of Pine St., causing the truck, driven by Wilbur Mattix, 50, of 316 N. Jefferson St., to go out of control and strike the home of Gilbert Cannon.

Mattix was admitted to Salem City Hospital with lacerations and injuries to his right shoulder.

Operators of Nursing Homes Hit New Rules

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A public hearing into a set of rules governing nursing and rest homes went into its third day today.

The rules and regulations have been blocked by litigation ever since the Health Department tried to put them into effect Jan. 1, 1961. That was several months after the 1960 legislature gave it administrative control over nursing and rest homes.

Court action by Judge Herbert Arfman of Salem, in behalf of the 400-member Ohio State Federation of Licensed Nursing Homes, blocked the more stringent regulations.

Arfman argued the new rules would mean the demise of the home with 25 or fewer beds. He contends the Health Department is not properly enforcing the old regulations, and should do so if it wants to raise standards.

Charging health officials with negligence in this respect Friday he named five homes in the Salem area and six in Canton he said have been allowed to go unlicensed.

Fore that 15 doctors and nursing home operators testified Friday before a seven-man council established by the Health Department. During the first day of hearings Thursday, 23 representatives of home owners and members of the medical profession favoring the new regulations testified.

Arfman said the last of the witnesses against implementation of the new regulations would testify today.

Typical of those opposing the proposed regulations is Robert Treister of Cleveland, owner of a 30-bed nursing home. Treister testified

MARY MAGDALENE

"And certain women, which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called Magdalene, out of whom went seven devils . . . and many others, which ministered unto him of their substance."

—Luke VIII:2,3

"Women loved Jesus," says Papini in his incomparable "Life of Christ." "They would have liked to be His sisters, His servants, His slaves; to serve Him, to set bread before Him, to pour Him wine, to wash His garments, to anoint His tired feet and His flowing hair."

Next to His mother, the woman who was nearest to Jesus, who followed Him fearlessly to the very foot of the cross, and to whom He appeared first when He rose from the dead, was Mary Magdalene.

She was so called because she came from the town of Magdala, in Galilee, where she lived during the early part of her life.

Scripture does not include many details of her life before she met Jesus, but most Biblical scholars agree that she was a woman of considerable means and position in her society.

Although popular opinion has long made her a kind of arch-type for the "repentant sinner" and fallen woman, there is not a shred of evidence to support such a view.

On the contrary, it is more likely that she was, as one ancient writer says, an educated woman, daughter of a wealthy Greek ship owner, who taught Platonic philosophy.

In any event, from the moment she met Jesus, until His final reappearance from the tomb, she was His devoted and intimate follower.

She accompanied Him and ministered to Him on His last journey from Galilee to Jerusalem, and, together with Mary, His mother, and John, the Beloved disciple, wept for Him on Calvary.

After the Crucifixion, she helped prepare His body for entombment. And, as Papini says so beautifully: "Many loving tears fell upon that face where in the calm paleness of death the old sweetness shone once more, and their tears washed it with water purer than that from Joseph's well."

Amstutz Family Will Go to Nigeria

TO GO TO NIGERIA — Lois and Clifford Amstutz pose with their children, Paul, Wendell and Crystal (l. to r.). Sponsored by the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, the family will leave April 20 for East Nigeria in West Africa, for a missionary tour of duty.

A former East Fairfield woman will leave April 20 for Nigeria with her husband where he will teach agriculture and serve as a lay worker in the Protestant church at Port Harcourt.

Mrs. Lois Amstutz, a 1943 graduate of Fairfield High School, will accompany her husband Clifford and three children on the new African assignment. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Blosser of East Fairfield, with whom the Amstutz family have been visiting for the past two months.

The family will go by plane to England where they will spend a weekend with friends, then go on to Port Harcourt.

Mrs. Amstutz, a school teacher, will tutor her children, Wendell, 8, Crystal, 6, and Paul, 5, for the first year in Nigeria. After that they will attend a boarding school for children of mission workers.

Mrs. Amstutz received her degree in elementary education from Goshen College, Goshen, Ind., and taught several years at schools in Beloit (Mahoning County) at Wooster and also in Kansas.

Her husband, a native of Orrville, is a graduate of Ohio State University with a degree in agriculture.

The missionary family has been challenged by the Bible verse from Galatians: "As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men . . ."

But Is It a 'Debate'?

Nothing in the dictionary definition of "debate" bars the word to describe properly what happens when political candidates appear together on the same platform.

But the fact remains that the Kennedy-Nixon "debates" in 1960 and the DiSalle-McElroy "debate" in Ohio this year are not what most of us mean when we talk about having a "debate."

We're not even sure those famous "debates" between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen Douglas in 1858 would have filled the bill. What really happened then was that obscure Mr. Lincoln, needing a buildup, got it by appearing on the same platform with a famous man who got more than he bargained for—a showman who made the oratorically talented Mr. Douglas look, sound and act like a stuffed shirt.

Gov. DiSalle and the Ohio attorney general didn't really debate anything. They traded accusations, each trying to make a more lasting impression on an unseen audience. Nor did Vice President Nixon and Sen. Kennedy debate anything in 1960. Mr. Nixon found himself defending the Eisenhower administration against the onslaughts of a determined critic who desperately needed a chance to play such a role and never would have had it if he hadn't been permitted to "debate" the vice president of the United States, who intended to make his campaign on an entirely different pitch.

There was less enthusiasm about political "debates" after that. There was even a moral, which goes something like this:

Beware of a political candidate who talks about "debates," because what he has in mind is an audience for what he hopes will be a triumph of his charming personality over his adversary.

Even Tiny Albania Talks Back

Premier Khrushchev is facing that "ole-debbit" dilemma of bullets or butter.

As his Russian citizens become more highly skilled they are demanding more fruits of their labors. Khrushchev in his drive to push world communism has spread himself too far and too thin.

As a result he can't satisfy the wants of his people at home and at the same time spread the Marxist-Lenin theory.

He has remarked that Marx is easier to swallow with a little butter. But by competing in the arms race and trying to sell this philosophy of government in all parts of the world he has been unable to provide the butter.

Many experts see this one reason for the comparative silence from Moscow. Khrushchev is preoccupied with problems on the home front.

The experts agree that the Russian people will continue to support communism but they also point out there is a fierce pride of nationalism in Russia. And the Soviet people are becoming more interested in obtaining the good things in life at home than they are in trying to peddle communism in Africa or other parts of Asia.

Russia's problem of a lack of consumer goods is mild compared to other red capitals. Peiping's food problem has reached the critical stage and Havana is not only hungry but is facing gigantic economic problems.

It would appear that time is working to the advantage of the West. The problems and pitfalls of communism are being widely publicized and the new nations emerging are coming to realize that the system isn't to their liking.

Rocket-rattling no longer makes nations shake. Even tiny Albania now talks back to the Big Bad Bear.

Shooting the Ace of Spades

In space-age lore—the great open-space age, not the outer-space age—the fellow with the six-shooter sometimes gave his adversary a fighting chance to withdraw gracefully from the scene before the shooting began.

One setup that made a fine impression was to stick the ace of spades in a crack atop a fencepost and shoot through the pip, drawing fast. After this demonstration of skill, the other fellow could forget his honor and ride away if he thought he was over-matched.

What we have now in the nuclear testing standoff is one last chance for the Soviet Union to withdraw before the United States starts to shoot in earnest. This country has been patient and long-suffering, standing by while Russian "bad men" shot the works last fall.

In all probability the Russian "bad men" will shoot the orks again whenever they feel like it, so the United States isn't really hopeful of getting a truce. What it's really doing in the present instance is to put responsibility for further nuclear shooting on the Soviet Union.

The United States, Great Britain and, presumptively, France, would prefer to have no more shooting, even though the Soviet Union obviously intends to shoot whenever it pleases. It is a weird war of nerves, in which nobody is shooting to kill but everybody is afraid of being killed.

Historians will find it hard to understand, unless they remember the space age—the great open-space age. Anyone foolhardy enough to go up against a gunman who could hit the pip on the ace of spades, shooting from the hip, was foolhardy. There was only one exception.

If he could shoot through the same hole, the match was a draw. No more shots had to be fired. The Soviet Union shot out the pip last fall. The United States now is going to match its performance this spring—it hipes.

Once Over

Spring News Items: Hank Bosley, who gets cans mixed up easily, sprayed his dog with rosebush beetle-killer and put the flea spray on the bushes. The dog has begun to blossom early. The rose bush looks done in.

"Stew" Gilley took a seat in a suburban train without looking and is in the hospital. He didn't notice a rake and hedge-clippers carelessly left by a woman returning from a visit to the city hardware store for garden tools.

Emory Whipple, who thought he was in the pink, put in a half hour raking his lawn last week and is in worse shape now than lawn ever was.

Barney Steukie began burning leaves in his yard and will now have to build a new garage although most of his house was destroyed.

Mrs. Abbie Hostetters planted pansies the other day and threw out her sacroiliac again. Luke Billings took his power mower apart early this month and is still weak and profligate as a result of his efforts to put it together again.

"Kit" Wilsey and his wife have parted as a result of argument over where to plant flower seeds.

Caleb Toopsey cut himself and two innocent bystanders using a sickle on the shrubbery.

Freeman Wigglesworth, whose disposition was never too good, ain't fit company for man or beast since he seeded his lawn and chickens got in the next morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Wally Glotz have sold their new bird feeder. They lost 15 pounds each refilling it with bird food for sparrows and starlings. The birds have put on weight.

"Diy" Gidney, who built a hothouse and raised a few orchids last year, will not use this season. Bandits hijacked the place and took three prize specimens which had no burglary insurance.

Jeff Carson's little girl, Minnie, is ill. Seems she put some lime on her cereal. It shows the danger of leaving spring gardening bags and packages overnight in the house.

Mrs. Sarah Bell Nottingham is suing her husband for a divorce claiming intolerable cruelty. He not only refused to help out with the geraniums but threw away all the seeds she had brought home from the flower show.

Eppingham Dudley tried burning sulphur-sticks in mole holes to get them out of his garden and was nearly asphyxiated. The moles are okay.

Garry Bilgeman is pretty smart. He dug up his entire lawn and had cement poured as substitute. His crabgrass worries are now over and he is feeling fine.

Almost Everything's Automated These Days!

Out In Over-Built Tucson

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

TUCSON — The truth is that Tucson has had a boom which is now done for the time being, an elastic figure of speech meaning until further notice.

The place is overbuilt in all kinds of houses at all prices ranging from, say, $500 down and installments no more than low rent on almost endless mortgages, up to mansions clinging like burs on ugly scant acres of boulder laced by gullies for $90,000, including kitchen bars for the kiddies' breakfast because servants are almost extinct.

The attraction of these particular sites is a beautiful view at night of the neons and traffic signals of an upstart equivalent of New Rochelle, N.Y., whose inmates are mostly strangers to one another and start conversations by asking "Where did you come from?" There are other houses for $29,950, $47,500 and $65,000 with or without pool in aquamarine or sapphire.

WHY CITY PEOPLE from the morbid compounds of the East, North and Midwest would cash their accumulations, take their pensions and come down to the craggy, khaki mountains of Arizona, then turn their backs on the Catalinas with their rainbow sunsets and aim their picture windows at the unsightly sprawl of an overgrown, one-story trading post with hundreds of crude bars and beer joints filling gaps between second-rate steak houses, for a commanding view of its neons and traffic lights at night, not even real estate agents try to explain. But they do.

Some people got tired of paying neighborhood delinquents $2.50 an hour to mow their lawns back in Milwaukee and bought boulder patches with written guarantees. Not even a prickly pear would be crazy enough to try it. But, the lure of the neons finally bites many such acres up to $7,000 where a coyote would get the stone-bruise.

At that point the traffic clanked to a stop. In very little time you can bid in preferred building sites which are lawn-proofed and garden-proofed by God's majestic scheme for whatever your fountain pen writes. It is becoming painful for visionary speculators who let their faith in the eternal chump tempt them into bulldozing layouts of boulevards up and down the chasms where the last tenants were lions up to 200 pounds, occasional bear, bobcat, wild pig and the conventional roster of reptiles.

THIS HAS BEEN pioneering as weird as Boca Raton back of Miami where a bellhop dreamed a paradise of purling canals which turned to alligator swales and, in the fullness of time, went back down the Keys, hopping bells again, this time in his own fishermen's camp. That probably will come to pass in Tucson. That seems to be the cycle of things and progress under free enterprise.

Barring mishaps such as a miserably cold winter only now getting forgotten in the Spring warmth, Tucson's climate is her greatest attraction. Her industries are mining, a rugged, uncouth calling repugnant to people with money for houses on such expensive lots, cattling and war.

The cattle business is corporate and elusive and changing from open range to grazing. Time may come when the kine may be born, raised and fattened all under cover in an "operation" like the production of poultry in Delaware.

THE NATIVE POPULATION come of pioneers who sometimes lived on jerky, even jerked jack-rabbit in the worst cycles of depression. Screens on the windows were an eastern luxury. The memory of war lingers in the pioneer soul even to the present generation. Some who can't count their wealth today but have to guess it would give a Pullman porter nightmares with their bent nickels. They regard the people who bring in the outside money as quints. The outside people go in awe of such meagerness.

With the rise of education in the State University, the great spiritual and economic theme remains nevertheless, "Drive them steers up the canyon, Curly, for tomorrow is assessment day!" If Detroit, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and New York were to secede from Pima County tomorrow, the pioneer stock would call on the Messrs. Udall, Secretary of the Interior and Congressman, respectively, to enroll them as Navajos, Apaches and Papagos and qualify them for blankets and cornmeal, corned beef and condor liquor, with adjustments for arrears.

Wages are lowest for employees of those who charge the poor folks most. Placards in the rear windows of automobiles exhorting one and all to eat beef and keep slim mock the want of families with children in need of something to sink their teeth into. A young woman secretary capuled her own status when she called Tucson, Leftover Gulch.

The boom certainly has leaked out and the asking price of desert and mountain acres has now met the refusal of the People from Somewhere Else. Two thousand an acre for spreads of 50 or 100 acres was feasible when the land was cut into "plots" and community centers. But when the tags began to appear on scant acre patches with the numerals $3,000; $5,000 and even $7,000 it happened. And it will not happen until a fresh money crop is harvested back East.

Responsibility?

By Dr. GEORGE S. BENSON

Government Can Ask For Too Much

When JFK and associates speak of the nation's need and requirements in various "areas," they point frequently to the responsibility of the nation.

For instance, the President told Congress a few weeks ago that the nation "falls far short of its responsibility" in meeting its health needs. As a generalization, this observation may have its merits, for our leaders ought to hold up goals before us that are attainable.

Responsibility is a strong word. It is a key word that needs to be spoken in a statesman-like manner.

THE MOST SIGNIFICANT area in which the concept of responsibility needs to be developed today is in the political area, where an administration's zeal for popular approval and vote appeal leads it to demand action and lots of it.

It apparently believes that something must be in the Congressional hopper for everybody. We are rapidly reaching the stage where each citizen must determine whether this is the kind of government he wants, a government that offers Utopia in exchange for increasing power.

When Mr. Kennedy talks about responsibility, he usually means that the nation (taxpayers) can have whatever they are willing to pay for or borrow money for. This, in itself, is a misdirected notion, for some of the things we most need can be purchased with no amount of money. But the idea that everybody can be healthy, nobody unemployed, and all of us secure comprises a dream we have not realized. After nearly 30 years of managed economy and many billions of dollars later, we arrive at a point where certain truths stand out clear and bold.

One of these truths is that the more the Government does for more and more people, the more self-defeating these arrangements become. The assuming of too much responsibility by government results in irresponsibility on the part of individuals, just as is being experienced in Russian agriculture.

The Communist government promised to feed its people, but the system brought only irresponsibility and the farmers are not producing. The whole Communist system rests upon the assumption of power through promises of big performance.

THE GLOWING PROMISES of

In the Public Domain

By TRUMAN TWILL

It had been so long since a common cold had hit this department that its pet theory about the malady had been put on the shelf.

The theory hasn't deteriorated with the passing of years. It makes as much sense now as it did when it was new.

The common cold starts with a condition. It does not start with an infection. The infection comes later.

The condition merely creates a favorable environment for the infection. If the infection then takes hold the victim develops a cold. But more often than not the infection does not take hold because the condition passes too quickly, or because of the potential victim's ability to shake off infection.

And what is the condition? It is congestion in the lymph-containing sections of the body, principally the tissues of the nose and throat. That same achy, stretchy feeling that goes with the common cold also goes with spring fever, influenza and every-day doldrums.

You can get it by sleeping too long. You can bring it on with overindulgence. But unless infection strikes the nasal passages and throat you do not have a cold.

When this idea was new, none of the goop now sold routinely by spellers on television for relief of nasal congestion had been put on the market. Today television is supported in large part by ads for preparations to shrink nasal tissue and to cover up discomfort caused by nasal congestion.

This firms up the theory that the common cold starts with a condition, then becomes an infection only if the cold virus is present. The condition will not become an infection if no virus is present.

No virus had been present for so many years that when a virus finally showed up the other day the result was cataclysmic.

Everything was out of practice—eyes, ears, nose and throat.

Suffering had become a lost art. There was a deep sense of indignation about the entire matter; it was intolerable.

When conditions grew worse after one day, a wire was shot off to the governor. When a second night passed with no improvement, a wire was shot off to the president.

On the third day a toll call was made to U Thant of the United Nations. If there still is no improvement tomorrow they're going to be called on to explain the imposition on most high.

The Twill theory about colds has been in the public domain for the greater part of a generation, with no takers.

Thoughts

Did not your fathers act in this way, and did not our God bring this evil on us and on this city? Yet you bring more wrath upon Israel by profaning the Sabbath—Nehemiah 13:18.

A corruption of morals usually follows a profanation of the Sabbath.—Sir William Blackstone.

and mayors of Columbiana County.

"Most county chairmen in Ohio serve as members of the Election Board because their party offices are unpaid," Kittridge said.

"There is no need to mention Gossney's record in Columbiana County—it speaks for itself."

"Columbiana County was one of the few counties in the entire United States in which both the Democratic presidential and vice presidential candidates spoke during the 1960 campaign."

"It is significant that this group did not mention Taylor's record," Kittridge said.

"Taylor was a so-called 'hatchet man' in his lone term in the state senate against the then Democratic Gov. Martin L. Davey. It seems we have another hatchet crew operating."

Atty. Guy Mauro of Salem, who is vice chairman of the Columbiana County Democratic Central Committee, said "Taylor obviously is seeking publicity and his reports are a figment of one man's imagination."

They found that the leftovers had the power to prolong indefinitely the lives of mice implanted with an experimental leukemia. Out of this crude material which protected the mice, Lilly researchers eventually extracted various key chemicals, including vincristine.

In the reports, the drug was described as having shown some effect in temporarily slowing or halting various kinds of malignancies in both children and adults. Preliminary evidence indicates that the drug may have unique powers of attacking malignant cells, while sparing normal cells.

Perrussel said the guillotine would be the method of execution, since Jouhaud has been shorn of his military rank.

The court did not specify how sentence should be carried out. Presumably De Gaulle could order a firing squad in recognition of Jouhaud's past military service.

Jouhaud was charged with participating in the short-lived General's Algiers putsch of April 1961 and then going underground as a leader of the secret army.

space were enforced. She said that would cost her approximately $3,000 a month.

They were objecting to the proposed requirement of 70 square feet of floor space to each patient in multiple - occupancy rooms. The present regulation calls for 60 square feet per patient, barely twice the space required for a normal-sized single bed.

Many testifying against the new regulations did so on grounds the larger space requirement would mean many patients would have to be released with a resultant cut in income. Some said it would drive them out of business.

The proposal that homes be required to provide care by a registered nurse or a licensed practical nurse also drew considerable fire from members of the federation.

Mrs. Cleo Townsend, owner of a 41-bed home in Akron, complained she would have to hire three licensed practical nurses.

"The proposal presents a hardship not only in regard to cost, but also because there is a shortage of such trained personnel in the state," she said.

Arfman questioned the Health Department's authority to impose a third of its proposed rules, saying it would conflict with duties of the state fire marshal. The rule would require two exits for every occupied story of a building, wider corridors and the like.

Quality
MILK

Nate Daum, Plant Superintendent of Beverly Farms Select Dairies expressed surprise that any question of adequate milk supply would occur at this time, since Beverly Farms Select Dairies and its predecessor Andalusia Dairy has served Salem's citizens so well for some 65 years ever since 1897. As a matter of fact, we know that our raw milk procurement program is one of the finest in the nation, we far exceed every safe guard of the Public Health that the Government advocates. It is our competitive product policy to hold our milk at a minimum of 4 degrees colder and to heat it during the pasteurization process to as much as 12 degrees hotter than is customary just because these things enable us to maintain a distinct competitive flavor advantage all of which also guarantees every possible safeguard of the public health that is known to the Dairy Industry. Our first and foremost concern is to maintain continued service to all the customers who, through the years, have come to depend on Beverly Farms Select Dairies, for the finest, highest quality of milk and dairy products that modern dairy methods have enabled us to provide.

(And we intend to continue to do just that!)

It is almost amusing to me that our opponents should use this means of competition. The only thing about it that bothers me is the reflection it casts on some farm friends of ours who have cooperated with us in every way to supply us with the quality milk we want. So although we have no quarrel with anyone, we do feel moved to offer the full services of our entire legal facilities to our farm friends if they wish, so that they can protect their livelihood and families.

I hope the folks behind this will get back to good old, fair, American Business Competition again.

For our part and we can assure our customers of an ample supply of Beverly Farms Milk!

Confident Living

By Dr. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How to Get More Out of Life

Zooming along by jet aircraft recently I got to talking with a fellow passenger, a man of jovial good spirits. Actually he was one of the most alive people I'd met in a long time.

Dr. Peale

This man seemed to have an almost poetic enthusiasm for everything around him. To him the speed of our flight was amazing and exciting — even though he had traveled frequently by air. The plane itself he considered magnificent. The changing beauties of the sunshine, sky and clouds outside filled him with endless wonder. And all at once he said impulsively, "Boy, I love life, don't you?" And he wasn't just talking, he really did. That was obvious.

But as we continued talking it came out that all this irrepressible zest was not something my companion had always been blessed with. In fact, several years ago he had reached a point where he no longer found satisfaction or enjoyment in anything. He did not seem to be making any progress. He felt inadequate. He was deeply discouraged. He lost interest in things. He became glum and downcast. As often happens in such a depressed mental condition he developed various physical ailments into the bargain and went around feeling half sick all the time.

THEN ONE DAY a friend said disarmingly, "Mike, maybe the trouble with you is you have let the life force in you run down." Mike had never thought of it that way but agreed that this might be so. He thanked his friend politely for the tip. But what he really wanted to know was — "So what can I do about it?"

"There is something you can do about it," pursued his friend. "Maybe you ought to go to church and get some spiritual treatment for your rundown attitude." (Pretty smart observation, that.)

But Mike demurred in no uncertain terms. And he permitted himself some very uncomplimentary remarks about preachers. It seemed he didn't go for them. Nothing doing, not for him! Church-going was dull and uninteresting, so he declared.

"It makes no difference whether you like preachers or their sermons," his friend persisted. "In fact you don't even have to listen to the sermon. Put cotton in your ears, if you like, to block it out."

"THE IMPORTANT THING is to get immersed in the spiritual atmosphere that builds up when sincere people worship together. Such an atmosphere is actually, energy. It is full of life. And the factually, vibrant with spiritual reason is that in church services thinking is spiritually conditioned and turned toward God.

"Everything you hear, in the music, in the hymns, in the Scripture readings, in the prayers, is about God. An atmosphere of real spiritual power is developed.

"Expose yourself to that atmosphere, be expectant as you do so, and believe you can be changed. I know you will feel a replenishment of zest for life. Just try it and see for yourself."

MIKE WAS SKEPTICAL. He had never heard church — going described in such terms. But fortunately for him he decided it was worth a try. He started going to church and after some weeks found that the experiment had good results.

"Believe it or not, it didn't take long before I started feeling different. I got in contact with God — I really did — and that's how I came alive. As a result I found out how to get more out of life," he told me.

(And I might add — I got more out of life by meeting this revamped personality.)

The story of the Palms

There were hundreds of trees along the Bethany Road. But no one noticed them. People were hastening over those last few miles, bound for Jerusalem to celebrate the feast.

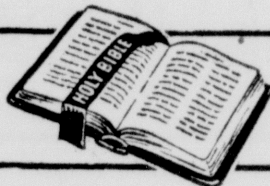

Then the King passed by. A gentle Galilean with kind, sorrowful eyes — riding to His coronation.

People cheered and shouted Hosanna. Some laid cloaks on the dusty roadway. And then, someone discovered the trees . . . beautiful palms that had stood unnoticed. Their graceful branches became the carpet of the King!

And when men sought a name for that triumphal Sunday, they named it for the palms. It is a day for discovering the spiritual beauty God has planted along the road of life — a day to worship Our King.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Blepp-Coombs, Minard's Tangle In Cage Tourney Final

Title Tilt Set For 9 Tonight

New Brighton, B-W Meet In Consolation

Cleveland Blepp-Coombs and Ravenna Minard's Sporting Goods advanced into tonight's Little City Basketball Tournament championship game by copping semi-final round tilts Friday night on the Memorial Building hardwood.

The Cleveland quintet won the right into the finals with a 89-80 decision over the New Brighton Bears of New Brighton, Pa., while the Ravenna five moved up after slipping by Cleveland B&W Tree Service 73-69 in the final seconds.

In finals action tonight, B&W Tree Service meets the New Brighton Bears in the consolation fray at 7:30 p.m., and Blepp-Coombs tangles Minard's Sporting Goods at 9 p.m. for the title.

New Brighton put up a strong bid in the first half against the Cleveland outfit, even though it was without the services of tall Herb Lake. The losers held a lead of 21-18 in the first frame and were down only 43-42 at half-time.

The winners' height advantage began to pay off in the second half as they jumped ahead 67-63 after three periods and were never headed.

Dave Scott featured for Blepp-Coombs with 30 tallies, while teammates Jerry McGinty added 14, Verly Witte 13 and Dan Mason 12.

The Bears' Pete Croud was the game's top point-getter with 31 markers. Jim Jackson and John Beane contributed 18 counters each in the losing cause.

Minard's Sporting Goods came through with two one-and-one foul conversions in the final 30 seconds to pull out a close one in last night's finale.

The losers in this one also broke out on top 18-17 in the first canto, but the victors held margins of 41-36 and 57-53 at the other two quarter stops.

In a battle of two giant teams, Bobby Greene paced the winners with 17 markers, while his teammates Charlie Boykin and Dick Dennis each chipped in 15 points.

Ed Wilson topped the losers scoring with 17 counters, while teammates Gary Probst banged home 16 and Tom Edwards 15.

World Champs Fall 5-3

Detroit's Yankee Killer Lary Does It Again

By The Associated Press

Time was when the New York Yankees shuddered every time Frank Lary picked up his glove and walked out to the mound. It must be noted, however, that this was not the only way the Detroit pitcher intimidated them.

But the big, bad Bombers get nervous even when he strolls over to the watercooler. It's too close to the bat rack.

Lary, who makes a habit of this sort of thing, beat the Yanks 5-3 Friday in Detroit's home opener. Departing from his usual custom, however, the Yankee killer did most of his damage with his bat instead of his arm.

Lary tripled in the tying run in a wild seventh inning as the Tigers charged from behind a 3-0 deficit. He pulled up lame at third and was lifted for a pinch runner, who eventually scored the winning run.

Washington, which hasn't lost yet, gained the top spot in the American League with a brief, five-inning 5-2 victory over the Indians at Cleveland while Chicago's White Sox bombed the A's 12-5 in a night game at Kansas City. Baltimore's home opener against Boston was rained out, and a blanket of snow forced Minnesota's Twins to postpone their home opener against Los Angeles.

The seventh at Detroit started with a fan throwing a pop bottle at the Yanks Roger Maris.

Maris trotted into the New York dugout after the bottle grazed his arm. Spectators then scattered broken glass over his position. The game was held up for about five minutes while Maris talked with Ralph Houk in the Yanks' dugout. Eventually he was escorted back to right field by umpires.

Lary was credited with the victory, running his career record to 28-10 over the Yankees.

Rookie Mike Hershberger hit four singles and a double, drove in four runs and scored another in the White Sox' rout of Kansas City. The Sox were trailing 3-1 when Dom Zanni took over the Chicago pitching duties and retired the next 12 A's in order.

Luis Aparicio started the offensive fireworks for Chicago with a solo homer in the fifth.

Tiger Fans Shower Maris With Debris

DETROIT (AP)—The chummy right field stands at Tiger Stadium long have been Roger Maris' favorite home run target.

It was there his first major league homer landed in 1957. In the years that Maris' fame as a slugger grew, he scattered the right field spectators with his drives with greater and greater frequency.

Now the right field fans are re-belling viciously against the New York Yankee power hitter's shots at them.

He narrowly missed serious injury Friday when a fan aimed a pop bottle at him in the seventh inning of the Detroit Tigers' home opener.

Maris said the missile struck his left arm.

Then Maris' right field playing area was showered with broken glass. He sought the shelter of the Yankee dugout.

"It's dangerous playing out there," said Maris, who was the target for a thrown seat slat in Detroit in 1960.

Manager Ralph Houk was vehement about the hospitality accorded his star, only player to hit 61 homers in one season.

Maris remained in the dugout for five minutes before he returned to right field. He talked with Houk and finally the umpires came over and escorted him out of the dugout.

"No, Roger didn't refuse to return to his position," said Houk. "We just wanted to get protection for him before he went back out."

Maris was roundly booed as he strolled into right field. As he walked, he made what appeared to be a contemptuous gesture toward the right field grandstand. He later denied it.

As soon as Maris returned to right field in the seventh, the Tigers rallied for three runs and produced a 5-3 triumph over the team they battled for the pennant almost all last season.

Butler Takes Early Lead At Mansfield

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Four "tornadoes" won a battle with the weather and contestants from 20 schools to annex the opening event of the 31st annual Mansfield Relays here Friday.

The Tornadoes—Golden Tornadoes from Butler (Pa.) High School—spun through the four-mile relay in 19:16 to defeat mud, snow, 25-mile-per-hour winds, freezing temperatures and some of the classiest schoolboy distance runners from Ohio, Michigan and Pennsylvania.

The victors, making their first start in the huge scholastic track event, broke the tape 40 yards ahead of runnerup Berea.

Back of the two leaders were Dayton Roosevelt, last year's winner of the event and the defending Class AA state champion; Cleveland John Marshall, Birmingham (Mich.) Seaholm and Ypsilanti (Mich.)

Butler posted miles of 4:43.5 by Don Hinchberger; 4:46.5 by Dave Eichenlaub; 5:03 by Dave Huff, and 4:43 by anchorman Howard Hammonds, Pennsylvania's cross-country champion.

Today the rest of the 1,238 boys from 130 schools swung into action in 18 events, but fewer conditions indicated that few if any records would be broken.

Springfield South is defending champion but Dayton Roosevelt or Cleveland East Tech is favored to take home the trophy today.

Senators, Weather Spoil Day

17,543 See Tribe Drop Home Opener

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gary Bell, disappointing this spring in his efforts for a comeback, drew today's pitching assignment for Cleveland against Washington's Claude Osteen, a left-hander.

"I just have to pitch a good game," said Bell soon after being told he was the starter in place of rookie southpaw Sam McDowell, who came down with a touch of flu.

Manager Mel McGaha made the change in mound assignments shortly after the Indians dropped a 5-2 decision to the Senators in the home opener. The game was shortened to five innings by a combination of rain and snow Friday. A turnout of 17,543 braved the elements.

Barry Latman, Indians' starter, was tagged for three runs and five hits in three innings. Two of the runs were unearned because of misplays by catcher John Romano—a passed ball and interference with Gene Woodling's bat.

The Indians cut the margin to 3-2 in the third frame with four hits. Bubba Phillips doubled, Jerry Kindall singled and Phillips scored after Ken Aspromonte lined out to left. Tito Francona and Chuck Essegian connected for singles, but Washington's Pete Burnside hung in and fanned Romano for the third out.

Bob Allen, Indian lefty, gave up a single to Jim Piersall and a two-run homer to Woodling in the fifth.

"We made too many mistakes against the good hitters," McGaha commented.

Bell, usually quick with a joke, was dead serious when told he was today's starting pitcher.

"I want to get into that starting rotation," he said.

Jim Perry, another right-hander who was a star but now is toiling in the bullpen, may get a starting assignment in Sunday's doubleheader along with Dick Donovan.

Billy Pierce Pitches Giants Into NL Lead; Tames Reds

By MIKE RATHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Juan Marichal, Billy O'Dell, Jack Sanford and now Billy Pierce—and suddenly the pitching poor San Francisco Giants are rolling in the precious stuff.

Pierce, a 35-year-old gamble picked up in a winter trade, allowed only two hits in 7 1-3 innings before reliever Stu Miller came on to finish a 7-2 victory over Cincinnati Friday night. The southpaw retired 13 straight Reds before Wally Post hit his third homer of the year, a bases-empty shot in the fifth.

Pierce was untouchable after that until he hit Chico Cardenas with a pitch, walked a man and gave up a run-producing single to Vada Pinson in the eighth. Miller finished up.

The performance by Pierce and Miller was the fourth consecutive low-hit effort by the Giants' staff —Marichal gave three, O'Dell allowed four and Sanford was touched for seven. It also left the Giants in first place with a spotless 4-0 record.

Elsewhere, Los Angeles' Dodgers kept Milwaukee winless with a 6-3 victory, Philadelphia handed Houston its first loss 3-2, Pittsburgh marred the New York Mets home debut 4-3 and St. Louis outlasted Chicago 8-5 in 15 innings.

Don Drysdale went the distance for the Dodgers striking out 11 and giving up eight hits, including a two-run homer by Roy McMillan in the ninth. Drysdale also drove in the go-ahead run with a double in the fifth as the Dodgers belted Milwaukee's Lew Burdette for five runs—three on Tommy Davis' homer.

The Phils got the job done as Tony Gonsalez supplied the power with a tie-breaker homer off Colts' starter Dick Farrell in the sixth and a triple in the eighth that drove in the deciding tally. Rookie Jack Hamilton picked up the win with a seven-hitter, although he wild pitched a run home in the fourth and balked one across in the ninth.

The Pirates scored the deciding run in the eighth when Don Hoak walked, took second on a wild pitch, moved up on an infield out and came across on another wild one by Mets' reliever Ray Devault. Tom Sturdivant won it with relief help from Elroy Face over the last two innings. Sherman (Roadblock) Jones took the loss.

Don Landrum's tie-breaking single and Bill White's two-run double gave the Cards three in the 15th to nail the 4-hour, 40-minute marathon with the Cubs. Stan Musial scored his 1,860th run during the game, eclipsing the NL record held by Mel Ott. Lindy McDaniel, with seven innings of three-hit relief, was the winner. Bob Anderson lost it.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

A Word From . . .
THERON at the Old Country Store

It is bad to see innocent people get hurt, but sometimes they get caught in the middle. An example is a small business man trying to bring people to his door while an over ambitious police officer makes statements such as "I don't care if people go through our town or not." No police department can operate at a profit if the community is to grow.
